WHEELS AROUND THE WORLD - MIVICE SUPPORTS CARI AND HIS GLOBAL TRAVELLING

One person, One dog. One dream.

Cari and his dog Harry will go on a world tour. 30tsd kilometres on the road in the Southern Hemisphere, through countries like Brazil, USA, Zimbabwe, New Zealand and many more. And this on his bike, which is powered by a MIVICE engine.

On his journey, we will raise funds for animal rescue centers and for non-profit organizations to help children in rural areas have electricity in school. He will also promote an environmentally friendly low-carbon travel style.

We will support Cari and his project with all our passion.

Before we left for the big trip, we were allowed to hold a short interview with Cari.

Cari, can you introduce yourself briefly:

My name is Jiang Guoqing. My friends call me Xiaoyu or Cari. My hometown is Guilin, Guangxi. I have always loved the mountains and outdoors since I was a kid. I work in Suzhou city. I love hiking and cycling outdoors, this is my passion.

Your dog Harry is always on your side, isn't he ?

I always take my dog with me when I am out, because Harry is the like one of my family members. I can't imagine being without him.

What was your first bike experience, what was your "special" bike moment in your life ?

My first long-distance ride was in 2012, from Sichuan to Tibet. That time, we experienced the changes of the harsh climate on the plateau and the extreme test of the human reaction. I was very impressed and met many friends on the way.

You now start a tough journey. When did you decide to do this trip ?

It was a childhood dream that I wanted to go to the outside world to see. I decided to take my dog with me because he spent his rest life with me. I wanted to take him to see the world in his lifetime.

You will start in North America. What is your planned travelling route during the next time?

We plan to go south from Los Angeles to Central America and South America, then to Australia from the southernmost part of South America, and then to Africa. Complete the trip in the Southern Hemisphere.

When will your journey end and what do you think will be the first thing you will do when you are back home ?

It will take about 1.5-2 years. The first thing I want to do after returning home is to eat a bowl of Guilin rice noodles ( 😊 ).

You are not “only” travelling, you also want to give some support and motivation with your project.

This is right. With our “Wheels around the world” project we will visit f. e. children who have no home and give them our support. Or we will raise funds for animal rescues centers and for non-profit organizations.

This sounds great. So we are really proud to support you a little bit on your trip, we will stay in short contact with you and of course will report about your journey !

I thank MIVICE a lot for their support and I hope that I could give you a short impression about my mission
